

Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Sunday 03 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:

Cold, some night frost and wintry showers. Windier in south.

Today:

England, Wales and eastern Scotland rather cloudy, showers focused across North Sea coastal counties, perhaps heavy there, while wintry on higher hills inland. Fewer showers in west, where more brightness too. Northwest Britain fine but very cold. Breezy in south.

Tonight:

Showers continue in the east, a few still running further west, with some sleet or snow on higher hills. Northwest UK, very frosty with isolated freezing fog. Windy in south.

Monday:

Northwestern areas still mostly fine and cold. Elsewhere breezier, windy in south and cloudier. Showers mostly in some eastern areas, perhaps more prolonged in places, especially parts of southeast England.

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:

Wintry showers mainly in the south and east at first. Further rain, sleet and snow pushing in from the north-west on Thursday. Cold with widespread overnight frost.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.